Are You Getting More Than You Bargained For From Your Heating and Cooling Ducts?

Duct leaks can make your home uncomfortable and unhealthy. Leaky return ducts can pull pollutants such as insulation fibers and dust into your home from your attic. Ductwork in the crawl spaces can bring in moisture, pesticides, mold and mildew spores, and animal residue with associated viruses and bacteria.

Return leaks also can pressurize the house, causing excessive air loss to the outdoors and forcing moisture into wall cavities

Supply ducts with leaks or disconnects waste money and energy into the attic or crawl space, and can cause dangerous backdrafting of combustion appliances.

Fixing leaky or disconnected ductwork is usually easy to figure out, cheap to fix and saves you a substantial amount of energy, which translates into saving money. Along with your energy savings, you can also receive a Klickitat PUD $300 rebate, if your home is electrically heated.

If you think your home is a candidate for duct sealing, call (541)

296-5652 for a free telephone estimate from Compton's.

A certified "Performance Tested Comfort System" technician will come to your house and perform a whole-house leakage test and a duct leakage test. This will tell you how much air your house and your ducts leak. He will seal the ductwork and/or replace the crossover, if appropriate.

After the job is done, the technician will again test your ducts and provide quantifiable improvement results to you. The results will also be submitted to Klickitat PUD, if your home qualifies for a rebate. The estimated cost to you (after rebate) is between $150 and $450.

Don't waste any more money heating or cooling the outside of your home! Call (509) 773-7622 or (800) 548-8357 to find out if you qualify for a rebate from Klickitat PUD.
